Answer Key: Wrangle the Rules: A Kindergarten Fairness Quiz

Challenge young citizens to identify fair sharing and leadership choices in familiar classroom scenarios.

1. If there is only one swing and three friends want to play, what is the fair thing to do?

Answer: B) Take turns using a timer

Taking turns is a basic form of justice where everyone gets an equal chance to participate.

2. A good leader in a classroom listens to what other students have to say.

Answer: A) True

Fair leadership involves listening to the community to make sure everyone is helped.

3. When we make a _____ together, everyone should follow it so we stay safe.

Answer: C) Rule

Rules are the basic laws of a small society like a classroom that help keep people organized and safe.

4. Who is usually the 'leader' who helps make decisions in your classroom?

Answer: C) The teacher

In political philosophy, we look at who has authority; in a school, the teacher acts as the governing authority.

5. Being fair means the biggest person always gets the most toys.

Answer: B) False

Equality means everyone has access to things, regardless of how big or small they are.

6. If the class wants to pick a treat, and 10 kids want apples but 2 kids want cookies, which one wins in a vote?

Answer: A) Apples

Voting helps us see what the 'general will' or the majority of the group wants.

Name: _____ Date: _____

7. When friends share a snack equally, they are practicing _____.

Answer: B) Fairness

Fairness is a core concept of justice, ensuring everyone gets what they need or an equal share.

8. A rule that says 'No one can talk' during a nap time helps everyone rest.

Answer: A) True

This demonstrates how individual limits (not talking) can benefit the 'common good' (everyone getting rest).

9. What is something a student is 'allowed' to do because it is their right in class?

Answer: B) Ask a question to help learn

Rights are things people are entitled to, like the right to learn or be heard in a community.

10. If you see a friend who is sad and has no one to play with, being a good _____ means inviting them to join your group.

Answer: B) Citizen

Good citizenship involves looking out for the members of your community to make sure everyone is included.
