

Name: _____ Date: _____

Scribbles to Scripts: A Pre-K Writing Process Quiz

Young authors synthesize ideas by arranging messy drafts into meaningful storyboards, bridging the gap between imaginative play and formal composition.

1. You have a big idea for a story about a dragon. What is the very first thing an author does to plan their work?

- A. Throw the paper away
- B. Draw or talk about the idea
- C. Spell every word perfectly
- D. Read the story to a large crowd

2. True or False: A 'rough draft' should look exactly like a finished library book.

- A. True
- B. False

3. When you look at your drawing and decide to add a sun because the characters are at the beach, you are ____ your work.

- A. Ignoring
- B. Ending
- C. Revising
- D. Sleeping

4. You finished your story about a space cat! What is the final step called when you show it to your friends?

- A. Drafting
- B. Publishing
- C. Scribbling
- D. Erasing

5. True or False: Authors sometimes change their minds and move pictures around to make a better story.

- A. True
- B. False

6. If you are fixing a 'backward J' or adding a period at the end of a sentence, which part of the process are you doing?

- A. Brainstorming
- B. Sleeping
- C. Editing
- D. Drawing

Name: _____ Date: _____

7. An author uses a _____ to organize their ideas before they start their final masterpiece.

- A. Sandwich
- B. Storyboard
- C. Toaster
- D. Blanket

8. True or False: You should stop and fix every tiny mistake the moment you start your first draft.

- A. True
- B. False

9. When an author asks a friend, 'Does my story make sense?', they are looking for _____ to improve their work.

- A. Candy
- B. Feedback
- C. Shoes
- D. Napkins

10. Which of these is the best way to 'Publish' a Pre-K class book?

- A. Hide it under a rug
- B. Leave it in the rain
- C. Binding it and putting it in the class library
- D. Coloring over all the words