

Name: _____ Date: _____

Broken Crayons, Mended Hearts: A Kinship Quiz for Kindergarten

Fairness, community rebuilding, and the 15th Amendment's voting rights—how we put a broken country back together using kindness and new rules.

1. The war was like a broken toy. After it ended, leaders wanted to fix the country so everyone could live together. What was this 'fixing time' called?

- A. The Big Nap
- B. Reconstruction
- C. The Tea Party
- D. The Winter Break

2. A famous nurse named Clara Barton helped both sides during the war and later started the American Red Cross to keep helping people.

- A. True
- B. False

3. The 15th Amendment was a new rule that said a person's _____ color should not stop them from being allowed to vote.

- A. Shirt
- B. Eye
- C. Skin
- D. House

4. If you were helping to 'Rebuild' a town after a war, which of these would be most important to give to people first?

- A. Video games and toys
- B. Ice cream and candy
- C. Schools and clean water
- D. New hats and shoes

5. During Reconstruction, many people who were once enslaved were finally able to go to school for the very first time.

- A. True
- B. False

6. Robert Smalls was a brave man who escaped during the war and later became a _____ to help make laws for the country.

- A. Baker
- B. Congressman
- C. Painter

Name: _____ Date: _____

D. Zookeeper

7. Imagine two friends are arguing. To fix their friendship, they make a 'Peace Treaty.' The end of the war was like...

- A. A circle because it never ends
- B. A handshake to start over
- C. A race to see who is fastest
- D. A wall to keep them apart

8. Because the war was fought at home, people had to work together to fix the _____ that were burned or broken.

- A. Rain clouds
- B. Starry skies
- C. Farms and railroads
- D. Oceans

9. Which of these is a way that a child today can show the 'spirit' of Reconstruction at school?

- A. Playing by yourself all day
- B. Keeping all your snacks secret
- C. Inviting someone new to play
- D. Ignoring the teacher's rules

10. After the war, the North and South became two different countries and never talked again.

- A. True
- B. False