

Name: _____ Date: _____

Succession: The Junior Year Quest for Literary Power Dynamics

Students deconstruct complex motivations and shadow selves by synthesizing textual evidence to map the internal architecture of sophisticated protagonists.

---

1. When analyzing a character through the lens of 'The Shadow' archetype, which element provides the most significant insight into their internal conflict?

- A. The protagonist's primary romantic interest and social standing
- B. Repressed desires or traits that the character refuses to acknowledge
- C. The chronological sequence of the character's childhood events
- D. The physical description of the character's external environment

2. In a sophisticated narrative, a character whose internal values remain unchanged despite significant external pressure is best described as a _____ character.

- A. Dynamic
- B. Static
- C. Antagonistic
- D. Foil

3. True or False: Indirect characterization requires the reader to use inductive reasoning to infer a character's traits from their actions, speech, and thoughts.

- A. True
- B. False

4. Which rhetorical device is a character most likely employing when they reveal their true motivations directly to the audience while other characters are present but 'unaware'?

- A. Monologue
- B. Aside
- C. Soliloquy
- D. Interior Monologue

5. The concept of 'Hamartia' in advanced character analysis refers specifically to a character's _____.

- A. Social background
- B. Tragic flaw
- C. Ultimate redemption
- D. External antagonist

6. True or False: A character can function as both a protagonist and an anti-hero within the same narrative structure.

- A. True
- B. False

Name: _____ Date: _____

7. When analyzing a 'Foil' character, the primary analytical objective is to determine:

- A. Which character will eventually win the conflict
- B. How the foil's traits highlight specific qualities of the protagonist
- C. The exact moment the foil becomes the main antagonist
- D. The biological relationship between the two characters

8. In literature, the 'Unreliable Narrator' often creates a gap between _____ and the reader's perception.

- A. Objective reality
- B. The author's intent
- C. The character's name
- D. The dictionary definition

9. True or False: Character agency refers to the degree of physical strength a character possesses in battle.

- A. True
- B. False

10. An 11th-grade analysis of 'Character Arc' should focus primarily on:

- A. The number of locations the character visits
- B. The internal psychological shift resulting from the plot's exigencies
- C. The physical aging process of the character
- D. The total word count of the character's dialogue