

Name: _____ Date: _____

Answer Key: Operation Viral Kindness: A Kindergarten Influencer Adventure

Can a five-year-old lead a digital movement? Synthesize ideas for helpful online videos and evaluate how to share joy responsibly.

1. Imagine you want to be a 'Helping Influencer.' You see a friend who is sad because they dropped their ice cream. What is the BEST video to make to help people?

Answer: B) A video showing how to share and be a good friend

Influencers have the power to model positive social behaviors, like empathy and sharing, which encourages others to do the same.

2. True or False: If an influencer shows a toy in a video, it means they are telling everyone that the toy is their favorite thing in the whole world.

Answer: B) False

Kindergarteners must begin to understand that influencers often show products for work or advertisements, which is different from their real-life feelings.

3. If you are making a video about a magic trick, you are using your ____ to keep people interested.

Answer: C) creativity

Content creation requires synthesis and creativity to engage an audience, which is a key part of digital storytelling.

4. You want to create a 'Global Dance Challenge' to make people happy. What is the most important thing to include so everyone can join in?

Answer: C) Simple, fun moves that are easy to copy

For a trend to go viral and be inclusive, the creator must design it so that people of all abilities can participate.

5. True or False: Before an influencer posts a video of their friend, they should always ask that friend for permission first.

Answer: A) True

Name: _____ Date: _____

This teaches the advanced social-digital concept of consent and digital ethics even at a young age.

6. An influencer who teaches people how to paint is acting like a digital ____.

Answer: A) teacher

Influencers often fill the role of educators by sharing skills and specialized knowledge with their community.

7. If you see an influencer eating a giant blue cookie and you want one too, what is the best thing to do?

Answer: B) Ask a grown-up if it is healthy or real

This requires the student to evaluate digital content and seek guidance on the reality of what influencers promote.

8. True or False: Every single thing you see an influencer do in a video is exactly how their real life looks all the time.

Answer: B) False

Kindergarteners need to learn the high-level concept of 'curation'—that videos are often just the 'best parts' or a performance.

9. When millions of people watch the same video and try the same dance, it is called a ____.

Answer: B) trend

Understanding 'trends' helps students recognize how influencers can spark collective action across the world.

10. You want to make a video to teach people how to save the Earth. What should you show them?

Answer: C) Picking up litter and recycling

Synthesis involves taking a big idea (environmentalism) and creating specific, actionable content to influence others positively.
